ROCKPORT

Rockport, Utah, July 20, 1899.

ROCKPORT TOWN

Moosequitos, hostile. General health good. Crops, fair to middling. Fishing, decidedly slow. Squirrel tails at discount. Weather, nice and warm. Hay is on a drop is light. Bishop Seamus made a business trip to Oakley Tuesday.

Mr. W. A. Smith lost a calf by blood one day last week.

Henry E. Seamus has been suffering from neuritis.

A reunion of the Staker family will take place shortly.

Mr. Kildoway returned from a business trip to Salt Lake Sunday.

Mr. Chisholm and others of Salt Lake are here putting out bait for the sportive trout.

A few of Rockport's young people attended M. L. A. conference at Coalville last Sunday.

Bishop Seamus and Billy Consey attended the special stake meeting at Coalville last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burbridge of Kanab, visited Bishop Seamus on their way in and from conference, Sunday.

Ann Wilson was a caller Tuesday evening. He was on his way to Salt Lake City, and continued his journey Wednesday morning.

The milk hauler for the Crystal Creamery has quit Rockport cold, with out so much as a warning. Wear of the opinion that a claim for damages would hold.

Miss Mamie Strombridge returned from a protracted visit to Salt Lake last week, bringing with her a friend, Miss Jones, who seems very much taken up with Rockport and her young men.

The choir is hard at work getting ready for the joint entertainment between this town and Washup on the 24th. Foot races are also in training as well as horses which are to have part in the races, and we expect to take one or two honors at any rate.

The newly elected members of the school board, Mr. John Horton qualified at Coalville last Saturday. People who are interested are particularly blessing the new law which requires them to go to the county seat to qualify and drag their hindquarters with them.

Since so many of the boys have purchased bicycles, the young ladies of this city of Enchanted talk of the organization of a bachelor girl's protective association. Their contemplated scheme is the purchase of horses and buggies for the entertainment of the boys. They realize the utter hopelessness of their case as long as the boys have wheels and they have nothing. Well, self-protection is the first law of nature.

In the practice rooms on Tuesday evening, some of the boys borrowed Will Harker's horse and persuaded Benben Seamus to ride it. The horse is naturally mean and unmanageable under the excitement of a race and toward the end of the run it "blew the track," running against a cow, throwing itself and rider, and badly crippling the cow. Result is considerably bruised and badly hurt in the head. It is better, however, but his bruises will make themselves even and felt for some time yet. The cow, E. Horton thinks, is crippled for life. And all this happened on the public highway where the law says no fast riding shall be done.

WASHUP

Washup, Utah, July 20, 1899.

WASHUP TOWN

Drummers have been plentiful this week. The farmers are busily engaged in taking care of their first crop of lucern. Henry Leeming returned this week from Medicine Bow, where he has been railroading.

The 22nd, Quorum of Seventies will hold their quarterly conference here Sunday July 23rd, at 12 o'clock noon. C. A. Callis and Robert McMichael each will deliver a lecture on "Authority" and "Baptism." All the members are requested to be present. Council meeting of the presidents will be held on the same date at 9:30 a. m.

HOVELTOWN

Hoveltown, Utah, July 20, 1899.

HOVELTOWN TOWN

John and David Bowen went to Salt Lake Tuesday.

Miss Annie Mallin left for a visit to Brigham City this week.

David Bowen is down from Idaho visiting his old home and relatives.

Miss Maggie Redden, daughter of George and Elizabeth Redden, passed away Wednesday night. The young lady was 19 years of age and had been an invalid for the past fourteen years.

Not wishing to dictate our county affairs, but I was just thinking how nice it would be if our county could, would or should improve the Court house grounds by planting a double row, at least, of shade trees around the grounds, surrounding the same by a good board or picket fence, and seed down the grounds to grass or lucern. From a snap shot picture of the present surroundings of the building, what do we see? A plain building, on a bleak, barren, dusty, treeless and grassless hill. A wire fence on one side, excepting a short piece of picketing, which may be mistaken for a wide gate, and a nice walk leading up from a beautiful city. Contrasting this with our sister counties, whose taxable property combined is not so much as Summit, we find the grounds surrounding their Court house like a beautiful park, creating a desire for me to enter the grounds (I don't mean the ground floor.)

UPTON

Upton, Utah, July 20, 1899.

UPTON TOWN

A grand ball will be given on the evening of July 26th in the Social hall. William Asper and family of Salt Lake City are visiting Upton for a short vacation and are the guests of Mrs. William Weaver.

Kapostomator firm and wife of Echo gave your correspondent a very pleasant call on Tuesday last, and inspected the new paintings now being placed in the Clark hall.

The purchase of new machinery has been coming in Upton for the past two weeks. Several loads have been delivered during that time by Agent Bowen who is awake to business.

The Social hall is receiving a new coat of paint and additional views are being introduced. One will be the beautiful battle ship "Maine" in her full glory in mid ocean, on the way to Havana harbor. The painting will be 16x10 feet. The Dewey fleet will also be seen in the distance. This painting will be a master piece of work and art. It is expected to be completed by the 25th.

School election was held in the Upton school house on the 10th inst., for the purpose of electing one school trustee. John Clark and Joseph Randall were the candidates. Twenty-three votes were cast, Joseph Randall receiving the majority. The annual report for the year ending June 30, 1899, was read and approved. Financially, the school district is in very good condition. The present school board is composed of Thomas Fawkes, Edward Powell and Joseph Randall.

RHO

Rho, Utah, July 20, 1899.

RHO TOWN

A dance is held for Monday night. The merry hum of the fiddlers is heard in every direction.

W. D. Clark is in Ogden waiting for his engine, which is in the shop.

Mr. Green, of the Utah Marble Company, was in Rho last Saturday.

Mr. Conch, of the Salt Lake Hardware Company came up from Salt Lake last week and put in a hot air furnace in the school house. This is something that should have been done years ago, when times were better and there was more money in the school treasury. However, we are more than pleased to see the trustees make this progressive step.

HENEVEL

Henevel, Utah, July 20, 1899.

HENEVEL TOWN

So far no program has been arranged for the 24th.

The people are very busy with the first crop of lucern.

The parties reported this last week are all on the improve.

The people are nearly all too busy to take in the extension on the 24th.

I forgot to mention in my last letter that Mrs. Lucy Hilditch was elected school trustee for the term of three years at our last school election.

Now that so much building material is being used here it seems an injustice for the people to be compelled to haul all their lumber, brick, lime, etc., from Rho and the Union Pacific railway located and running through our town. The company have frequently promised a depot and side track for the people here, but so far the promise is all. The town of Henevel is building up very fast, and with a population of 400 and proper facilities for transportation in and out of the place, would make rapid progress.

Perfect digestion and assimilation produce disorderly condition of the system, which grow and are confirmed by neglect. HERBINE gives tone to the stomach and causes good digestion. Price 50 cts. For sale by John Hayden & Son.

ONE YEAR EACH

Is the Sentence Received by the Clark Boys—Need Gets Five.

Judge Cherry came out from Salt Lake and presided at the session of the Third District Court held last Monday.

J. W. Need, convicted of rape, was asked why sentence should not be rendered. He replied: "I am an innocent man." The Judge told him he could not ignore the verdict rendered by the jury and he was sentenced to serve five years in the State Penitentiary. An appeal was taken in the Supreme court and his bond was fixed at $2,500 pending the decision.

W. R. and Walter Clark, both of whom had pled guilty to the charge of burglary, had nothing to say, but County Attorney Callis stated that this was the first offense of which they had been convicted, and requested the court to extend what sentence he could. They were each sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary.

In the divorce case of Lewis vs. Lewis, defendant was granted sixty days' extension to prepare his answer.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach pain, heart trouble. Hudson's cures. All druggists, 50 cents.

Persons troubled with diarrhea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Borst, clerk of Hotel Des Moines, Providence, R. I. In his words: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at the hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would forthwith resort to this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction. For sale by John Hayden & Son.

JOINT CONFERENCE

Proceedings of the Three Meetings Held Sunday.

The joint conference of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. continued in the Stake building at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, July 20th. The attendance was good, there being representation from nearly every ward in the Stake.

Pao Callis reported the work of the Y. M. C. A. association during the past season. He said the results of last season's labors were excellent. Reported that the meeting of the five had been a success.

Howe Pack reported that the condition of the Y. L. A. association is in good working order. Felt thankful that such an interest is being taken in the Journal.

The Oakley association was reported by Elder J. H. Reynolds.

Pres. Eliza Barber reported the condition of the Young Ladies' association of Centerville ward.

William Frost reported the Coalville East ward association. He said they held joint meetings on the first Sunday of the month.

Elder John S. Wells addressed the conference on general principles of exhortation. Said we are the most enlightened people on the earth, with regard to religious ideas. Said in our educational institutions we should develop our spiritual, intellectual and physical powers, that the man may be perfect. Felt that the Summit Stake was not too well represented at the meeting. He suggested early marriages and said that many a hindrance to the work over which they are placed, and that such hindrances should be removed.

Since Mary Fries said she felt that the power of God was present. "Our constant daughters are grand and noble and ever accompanies our young people's labors. She spoke in a most inspiring and affectionate manner, and showed her love for the young of Zion.

After singing by the choir and benediction conference adjourned at 2 p. m. An afternoon meeting was called to order promptly at 7 o'clock. The choir sang, "Up, Awake, ye Believers of Zion," and prayer was offered by W. H. Tench. Concluded by singing, "Now Let us Rejoice."

The sacrament was administered by Elders J. W. Wells, John T. Wilde, O. W. Young and William Frost during the administration the whole sang from page 402.

Pres. Agnes Jones reported the association of Henevel ward.

Sister Elizabeth spoke next and her remarks were mostly on the law of tithing. She referred to the recent revelation given through President Snow and advised the people to observe the law strictly.

Appie Crowley was the next speaker. Said she was glad to meet with the young ladies. Mutual improvement work is extensive and accomplished, very good. There is no subject of more importance than teaching our children that they may get a testimony, without which we are mere access against idolatry. The object of Mutual improvement work is to obtain a testimony of the Gospel, that is no respecter of persons and all are entitled to His spirit. Spoke for some time on the subject of repentance.

Earth with Her Ten Thousand Powers" was sung by the choir and after benediction conference adjourned at 8 p. m.

The evening meeting was opened by the choir singing "School Thy Feelings, O My Brother." Prayer by W. H. Carraway. Continued by singing, "Hark, Listen to the Trumpets."

Sister Fries was the first speaker. She referred to the principle of tithing. Spoke of a meeting held recently in the Temple at which Apostle Cowley prophesied in President Snow that he would live to see the church out of debt; and that President Snow said the church had robbed the Lord of five or six millions of dollars in tithing in the last decade. She referred to the fact that the non-Mormons in the east are anxious for the Mormons to go back to Jackson County, and are willing to contribute to the building of the temple at that place, thus showing that the Lord is working on the minds of the people.

Sister Fries occupied the remainder of the time. She congratulated the people on the good order and attention manifested. Her remarks were mostly on the eternity of the marriage covenant. She urged the young people to get married in the Temple.

The choir sang "What Was Witnessed in the Heavens?" Eliza Barber pronounced the benediction and conference adjourned.

A Fatal Shooting.

Barton C. Morris, the young florist, was murdered at 7:45 last evening in the front room over the Marchant restaurant on Main Street. The fatal bullet was fired from a 38-caliber pistol by John H. Hensbrook, a gambler, employed at the Sheep ranch. There was only one gun found in the room, and it is believed to have belonged to Hensbrook, though a moment after the shooting he denied owning it. The cause of the tragedy was a noted young woman, Leda Stromberg, who was engaged to be married to Morris—Tribune, 18th.

It seemed to develop later that Hensbrook had arranged to murder Morris, although he will plead self defense. Miss Stromberg is penetrated over the affair. Much sympathy is expressed for the relatives of young Morris.

To Welcome the Volunteers.

We gladly publish the following letter and hope that the people in this end of the county will do their share toward helping to welcome the volunteers.

Park City, Utah, July 18, 1899.

To the Citizens of Summit and Washup Counties:

At a meeting of the citizens of Park City, held on the 17th day of July, for the purpose of arranging a program for the reception of our brave volunteers, who are home-ward bound, a resolution was adopted inviting you to participate with us in welcoming our heroes who have upheld Utah's standard so nobly in our late war.

Our program will not clash with those of our sister cities, as it is expected that the volunteers of Summit and Washup counties will arrive here by special train from Salt Lake City direct.

Any information concerning arrangements will be cheerfully furnished by F. J. McLaughlin, secretary of the committee. Yours cordially,

F. B. Davis,
Secretary of Citizens' Meeting.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, July 14, 1899.

Secretary Long is being complimented for having been allowed enough to see through what was evidently a Spanish trick. A communication from a foreign ship-broking firm was sent to the Navy Department, offering to buy all the Spanish war vessels captured during the recent war. There is very little doubt that the offer was made for Spain, which should have thought it could hardly give as much a portion of those twenty million dollars than to rest under the constant humiliation of knowing that a number of its warships were under the American flag. Secretary Long wrote the ship brokers that the vessels were not for sale—he knows their value as objects of some patriotic interest.

The latest newspaper resignations filed up for Secretary Alges were like all the rest. The Secretary says he will not resign this year, anyway, and that what he may do next year will depend upon his private business and his health.

By an order of the President, just issued, all shippers of residents of Porto Rico and of the Philippines at the time of the exchange of the ratified copies of the treaty of peace are given all the privileges and protection enjoyed by American shipping, including the right to fly the American flag in all waters. There is no indication that the administration is doing anything to encourage the annexation sentiment, either in the U. S. or in Cuba. On the contrary, an order issued to Gen. Brooke instructs the intention of the administration to carry out in good faith the original intention of giving Cuba a local government of its own as soon as it may be safely done. The order referred to directs Gen. Brooke to appoint to two vacant positions in each military district of Cuba, for the purpose of taking a census of the qualified voters of the island. After the census is completed arrangements will be made for the election of municipal governments all over the island, after which the question of a general election on the island to decide upon the form of government desired by a majority of its voters will be taken up and settled. It is possible, although not yet decided, that annexation may be voted upon when the general election is held.

Priesthood Meeting.

The largest gathering of the priesthood in the history of Summit Stake convened in the Tabernacle, Coalville, last Saturday; every quorum, organization and ward was represented. Every bishop in the Stake occupied his seat; but eight bishops' counselors were absent out of twenty-six. The high council was represented by eleven of the twenty-five members.

Each polity was well represented. The "seventies" bunnies were well represented, but few but few members of the fourteen aunts, and on account of sickness and one absent from home. The Relief Society and Young Ladies' association were well represented. Two or three absentees were noted because of sickness.

The spirit of the meeting of the priesthood held at Salt Lake City on the 11th inst. was manifested in a great degree. The subject of tithing was discussed at great length and referred to by all the speakers.

The matter of continuing the Stake Academy was dealt with. It was the unanimous feeling to continue and maintain the academy, which some were opposed to by a vote of the unified hand from entire assembly. This is a move in the right direction and it becomes the duty of the people to sustain the school by patronizing it and contributing liberally of their means. Ten times wishes the institution every success.

CALF FEEDING.

Press Bulletin From Utah Experiment Station.

This shows that skim milk for calf feeding is worth practically one half as much as whole milk, or, in other words, the net price obtained for the 4 pounds of fat in 100 pounds of milk was but 71 cents, or 8 1/2 cents per pound.

The important fact, with calves, as with pigs, is to feed it right; it must be intelligently fed. A point to be emphasized is that all changes in the feed of the calf must be made gradually, the calf is a baby cow and any discontinuance of the diet must be corrected at once. The aim should be to keep the calf growing and thrifty at all times, never stint it.

A few points require careful attention. For the first week or ten days of the life, the calf should have whole milk from the cow, 8 or 9 pounds a day, twice a day. At the end of this time turn to gradually change to skim milk, and in one week make the ration one-half skim milk and one-half whole milk. During the next week maintain the change, and at the end of that time the calf receives three-quarters skim milk and one-quarter whole milk. At the end of the third week after beginning the change from whole milk to skim milk, or when the calf is 45 days old, it should be on a skim milk diet, unless it is not doing well, when a pint of whole milk at a feed should be continued for a week or two.

(To be continued next week.)
